Hello,

Ouachita Mountains RC&D, Inc.'s 2018 'Women in Agriculture and Small Business Conference' is scheduled to be held July 20th in McAlester, Oklahoma at Eastern Oklahoma State College. We are proud of and would like to assist our many agricultural producers in our area, both male and female. Our conference offers an informative networking opportunity for these people in our area, especially the many women in agriculture.

We would like to honor several special ladies at this year's conference, with your help. We would like you to nominate women you feel should be our region's "Ag Woman of the Year". Once nominations are received, our committee will send a press release to your local paper asking them to recognize these ladies for their accomplishments. Each county's nominee will be in the running for the entire region's 'Ag Woman of the Year'. The winner will receive acclaim at our conference, press for her and her business, as well as a gift of thanks for all she does.

Please complete and return the nomination form by fax or email quickly, as all nominations needs to be received by June 13th, 2018. Please contact us at OMRCD@att.net or 903-357-7309 if you have any questions. All finalists must be able to attend the conference, where they will be recognized. The 'Ag Woman of the Year' will be announced at the noon luncheon on July 20th (lunch will be provided for all finalists). Photos will be requested at a later date.

Thank you for your cooperation in advance, this is an exciting opportunity for a hardworking woman in your area that deserves it!
